Sections of Chisha Foka Multi-Use Trail to Close for Maintenance

RIDGELAND, MS – Natchez Trace Parkway will close sections of the Chisha Foka Multi-Use Trail near Ridgeland, MS starting November 1, 2020. The work will take place along three sections of trail beginning near the Highland Colony Parkway trail crossing and ending south of the Ross Barnett Reservoir Overlook (Milepost 100.8- Milepost 105.3).

Over approximately two weeks sections of trail will be closed as the work progresses. The trail requires regular maintenance and repair work to maintain optimal conditions for visitor use. Signs and barricades will be placed at trail access points to mark the closures. All access to the closed portions of the trail is prohibited during this time. The trail west of Highland Colony Parkway will remain open.

For more information about this project and the Natchez Trace Parkway, call (800) 305-7417.
